To the Citizens of Warren County,

In the aftermath of Hurricane Helene, the Warren County Board of Commissioners remains steadfast in our commitment to supporting our community. We are working closely with all county departments to provide essential services, ensure your safety, and assist with recovery efforts during this challenging time.

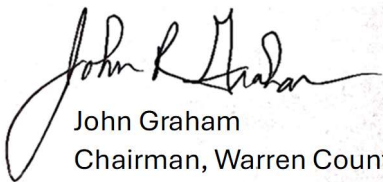

To keep you informed, our dedicated staff, stationed at the Chamber/Hometown office, have been appointed as the official Public Information contacts. They are actively updating all social media channels and county websites with the latest information. For the most accurate and timely updates, please visit the Warren County Emergency Services page, which serves as the central hub for all disaster-related information.

In addition, every county employee is contributing to relief efforts, with many assisting at the Community Services Building. Here, essential supplies are being distributed to individuals and families in need. We encourage those affected to visit the center for any assistance required.

We are also in ongoing communication with State and Federal officials, working diligently to secure a formal disaster declaration from FEMA. At this time, we are awaiting confirmation, and we will keep the community informed as we receive updates.

Our thoughts are with everyone affected by this disaster. Please know that we are here to support you, and together, we will rebuild and recover.

Sincerely,

John Graham
